Cover and art work: Diane North

The cover design includes the sword of Don Juan of Austria who led Christian Europe against advancing Moslem power in the Battle of Lepanto. It was here that history reached a turning point. For the Christian West, it was the beginning of a brilliant new era; for the Ottoman Turks, it was the beginning of the end. The seals of the Sisters of St. Mary and Brothers of Mary join to overlap the sword to emphasize the continuation of Christian ideals.

The Joint Student Council coordinates the religious, social, cultural, and athletic activities of the school. Working closely with the faculty, the officers and representatives of the Student Councils plan a diversified program of school life.

The Student Council sponsors the Christmas canned food drive.

President Jerry Becan and the homeroom representatives: Joe Mosby, Mike Thompson, Bob Diem, Mike Yeager, Pat Barbolla, Bill Lorimer, Mike McConnell, Jim May, Phil Handler, Leland Senesac, and Dick Smith.

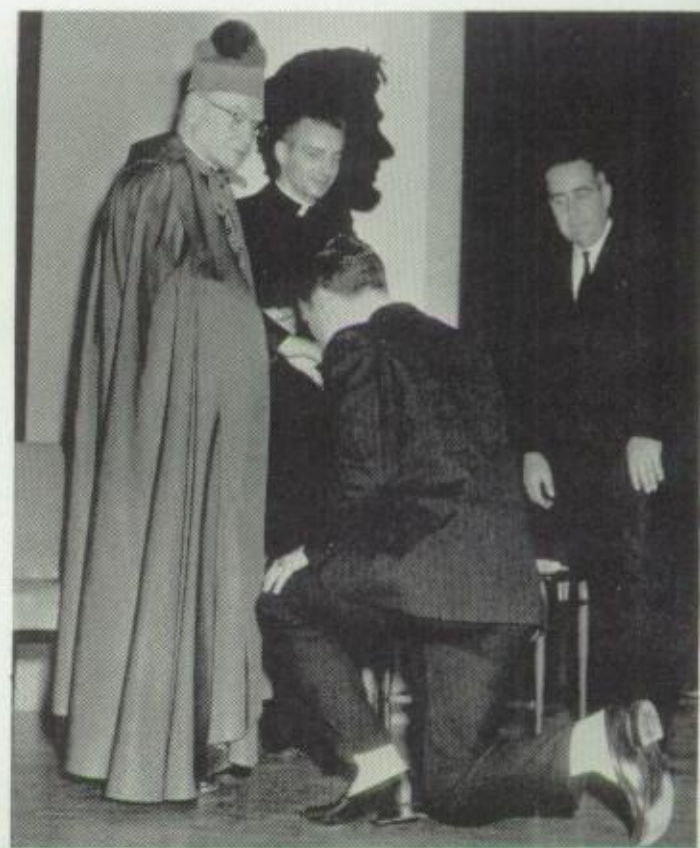

Bishop Gorman with the charter members of Nolan's Honor Society.

National Honor Society

Leadership, character, scholarship, service - these qualities are all possessed by the Nolanites comprising the National Honor Society. However, this is not simply an honorary organization. Rather, it is a group working actively to maintain Nolan's tradition of academic excellence.

Paul Brandimarte kneels before the Bishop and receives his pin.

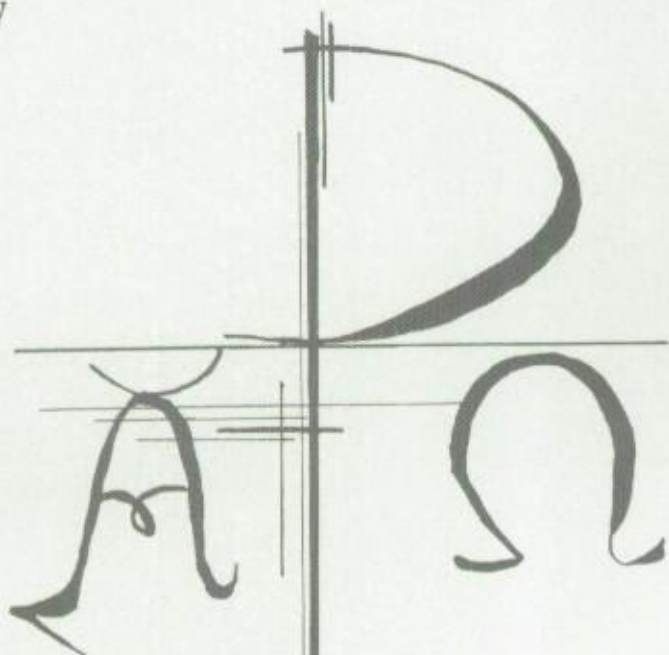

Bishop Gorman blesses the National Honor Society pins.

The speakers of the evening, Michael Schattman, Betty Degge, Jerry Becan, and Mary Jo Kyle lead the new members in the society pledge.

Boys' Sodality

No organization in the school fosters family spirit at Nolan as does the Sodality. With the Mother of God as their model and guide, the Sodalists work tirelessly for the sanctification of themselves and their associates. This unified apostolic spirit of action, which is the heart of the sodality, is a way of life for its members.

The sodalists leave the school at the start of the "Keep Christ in Christmas" drive.

Girls' Sodality

The Girls' Sodality seeks to foster a strong attachment to our Blessed Lady. This devotion reflects the true Christian spirit in Nolan Youth.

Officers of the Sodality: Cecilia Lantier, Prefect; Kathleen McDermott, Vice-Prefect; Sister Imelda, Moderator; Elizabeth Einhaus, Secretary; and Susan Broadley, Treasurer.

Sodality Probationers: Janet Hopkins, Kathleen Taggert, Pat McElroy, Susan Worthy, Sherry North, and Mary Ellen Wells with Sister Mary Vianney.

The spiritual highlight of the year is the Reception of the Sodalists followed by an agape, or Love Feast, at which time bread is broken and distributed as was done in the first century of the Church. Rev. Henry Koriath and Rev. Paul Neumann, S.M., officiate at the ceremony.

Father Koriath presides at the agape supper.

Working together steadfastly throughout the year, the Lepanto staff produces the yearbook. Their diligence is rewarded when the yearbooks are distributed at the Annual Party in late summer.

Janice Shocklee, Diane North, Miss May, and Cecily Stewart handle the Lepanto artwork.

Viking Trumpet

This year the Trumpet expands its activities by publishing six issues of a printed newspaper. No longer a small organization, the Trumpet is now a major part of the school. The hard-working staff acquaints Nolanites with what is happening and keeps students posted on future events.

"We never make Mistakes."

Cheerleaders

As symbols of Nolan's school spirit, the cheerleaders spark the Vikings to new heights of athletic achievement.

Do you know the score? Nolan 65, Jesuit 60.

sion of Medea.

Genesian players on stage.

Genesians

The Genesian Players enhance the cultural life of the school with their productions of great works of drama. This year they work together with the choral club to put on an extremely successful performance of "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Genesian Officers are Secretary Anne Connelly, Treasurer Mike Holmberg, Moderator Mr. Mello, President DeDe Cox, and Vice President Sharon Migues.

Genesians prepare for "Mello-drama."

The debators: Jim Paukert, Mike McConnell, Carol Miller, and Judy Dornblaser.

National Forensic League

The extensive preparation and persuasive oratory of the Nolan speech teams have once again resulted in admirable achievements at National Forensic League tournaments.

This year of successful work was climaxed by the First Annual Trophy Debate in which Nolan's two most illustrious teams matched wit and wisdom in year's grand finale.

N.F.L. Debators: Carol Shaw, Diane Miller, Bill Parker, Brantly Womack.

Officers of N.F.L.: Jim Paukert, Vice President; Mike McConnell, President; Mr. Mello, Moderator; Mary Jo Kyle, Secretary; Brantly Womack, Treasurer.

Future Nurses

Preparation for a career in nursing is the purpose of the Future Nurses. However, this preparation is, and must be, influenced by Christian principles for the medical profession.

Officers in the Future Nurse's Club: Theresa Rappich, Kathleen Lambrix, Sister Bernadette Marie, Moderator Janice Shocklee, and Diane North.

Diane North receives her pin from Sister Mary Jerome.

Future Nurses anxiously await pinning ceremony.

Sister's joke is well-received.

Edwina Elliod, Kathy Parr, Cecelia Lantier, Kathy O'Connor, Lory Bowles, Betty George prepare for Mass.

Altar Society

Active members in the altar society gain experience for future work in their respective parish Altar Societies.

The officers of Altar Society: Betty Degge, Kathleen Lambrix, Sister Eleanor, Moderator, Theresa Rappich, Cecelia Roehl, Mary Ellen Flood.

Sister Martin Joseph gives instructions to Kathy Jones, Doreen Odom, Barbara Gostomski, Chris Miller and Theresa Gonzales.

Lettermen's Club

The Varsity Lettermen's Club poses in the hallway.

Lettermen's Club Officers: Bill Morton, Paul Brandimarte, and Bill Donohoo.

This year marks the introduction of a new organization at Nolan. The Lettermen's Club, composed of the lettermen and managers of the Nolan sports teams, has already become an essential element of Nolan's athletic traditions.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association coordinates all varsity and intra-mural games in the Girl's Division.

These girls make pyramid building look easy.

Home and School Association

Through interest, encouragement, and financial aid, the Home and School Association has contributed much to Nolan's tradition of excellence in every field.

The parents "cut a rug" at the Home and School Dance.

Viking Sports Club

Throughout the year the Viking Sports Club backs Nolan's athletic endeavors with a fine spirit of confidence and encouragement.

By sponsoring the First Annual Sports Banquet, this organization pays high tributes to Nolan's athletes.

Sports Club officers: Mr. Dan Dorris, secretary; Mr. Harry Dunton, president; Mr. Paul Snelus, vice president. (Absent from picture: Mr. Lloyd Blaschke, treasurer.)

Sports Club clan discusses future activities.

Career Night Provides Guidelines for Future

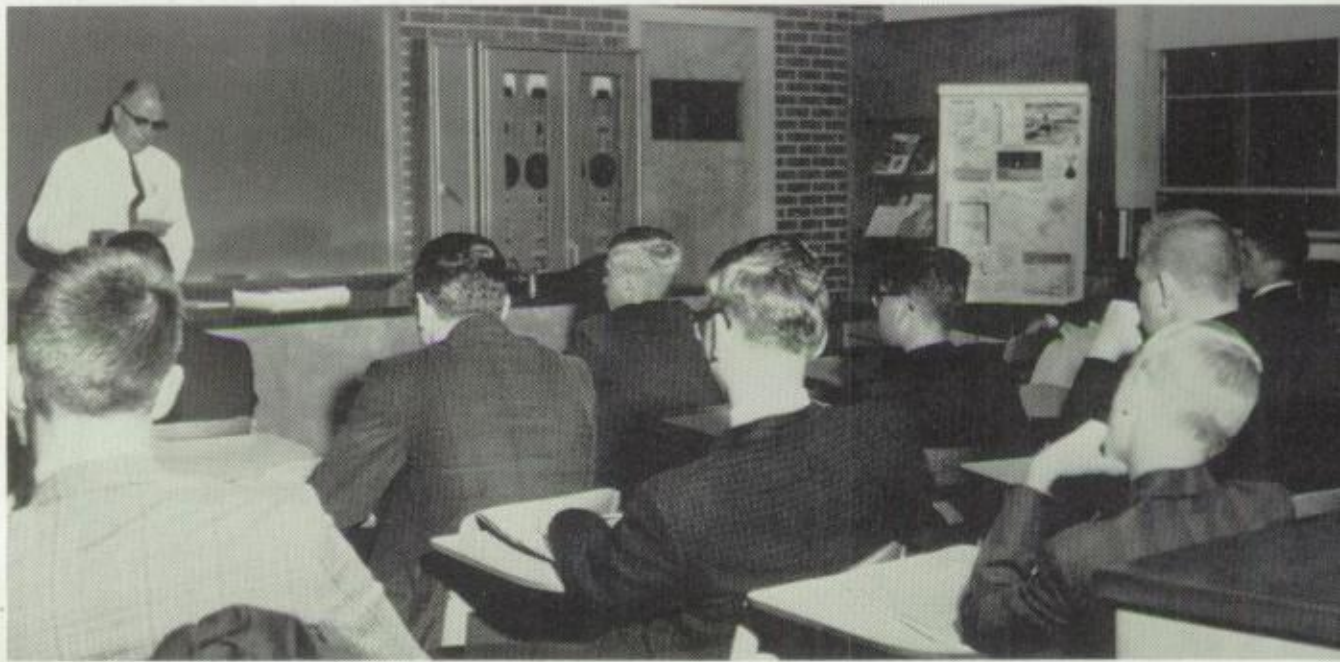

Mr. Robert F. Snakard presents the keynote address "Choosing the Career That Fits You."

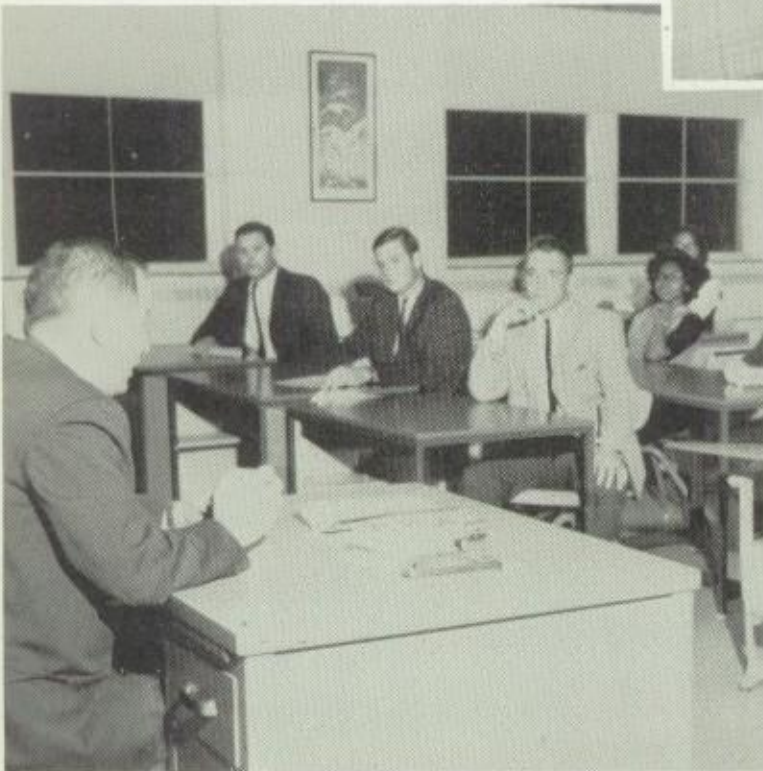

Students leave auditorium for the various lectures.

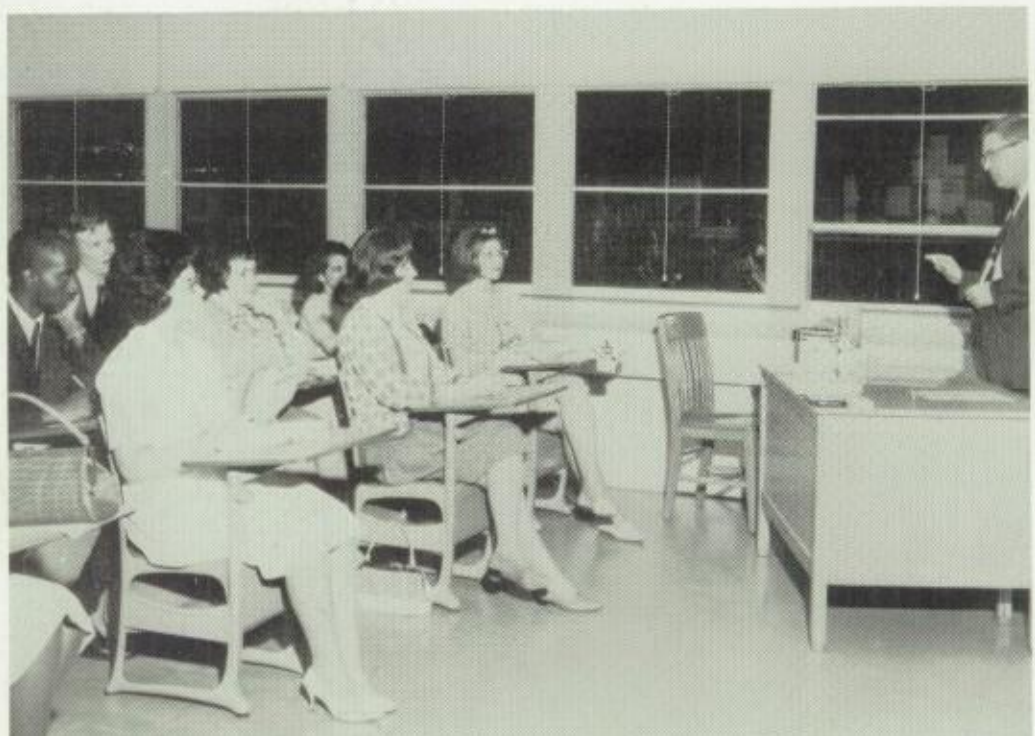

Career Night brings to the students a better knowledge of professions through lectures by experts in various fields. Some hopes are shattered and some born, but each student receives a clearer knowledge of the world he will live and work in.

Mr. Robert W. Geis gives a lecture on engineering to an attentive audience.

Mr. Till Petrocchi instructs a captive audience on business and banking.

Mr. Denning Schattman explains the field of law to interested students.

The Nolan Choral Club entertains at the spring "Hootenanny."

Bill Hajek introduces a selection as accompanists Drew Womack and Jere Surber look on.

Students Excel in Music

Under the direction of Sister Jane Marie, many students study piano. At the end of the Spring semester, they present a recital. Also, under the direction of Sister Jane Marie the Choral Club performs for the student body at several assemblies. It participated in "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Christmas and the group also sang the traditional carols at Elmwood Home for the aged. For the second time, they travel to San Antonio Music Festival from which they return with a SUPERIOR rating. As their final performance of the season, they present a Hootenanny for the enjoyment of the student body.

Soloists at the Hootenanny: Eddy Pierce; Mary Jo Kyle and Laura Cocharo; Norm Bonner.

Mary Ellen Flood, Pat Woods, and Kathleen McDermott place in piano competition.

Holy Spirit Mass Marks Beginning of School Year

Students at Nolan High have the privilege of elevating their high school life to the highest level possible by offering it daily at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Spiritual formation as well as academic excellence is of vital importance to the faculty and student body.

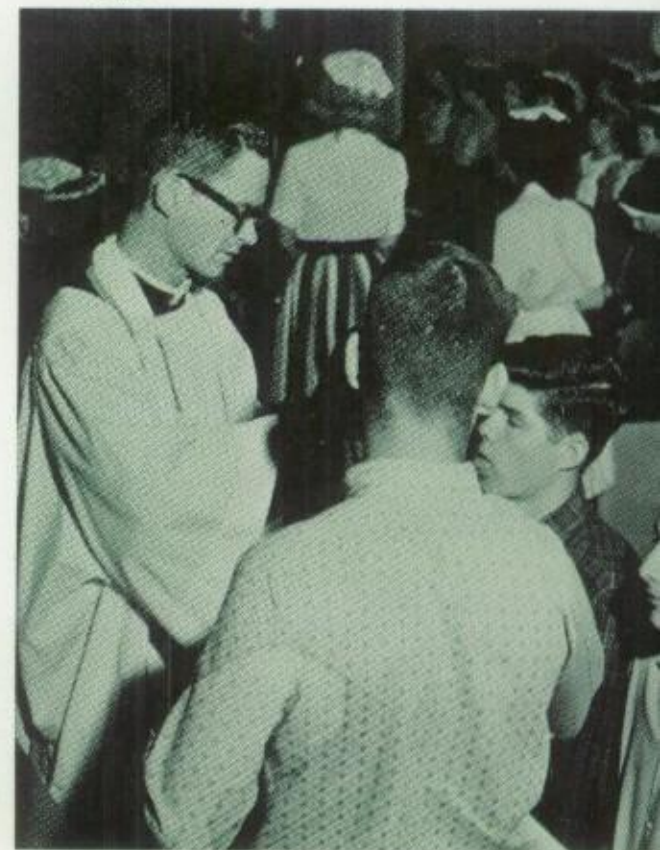

Student Council '61-'62 presents to Nolan a statue of Our Lady for school entrance.

The student body prays for the coming year at the Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Father Neumann celebrates the Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Father Hazel distributes Holy Communion

Students Demonstrate Christmas Spirit

The Christmas season finds Nolan students busy with many charitable projects. Schoolwide drives are launched in order to provide a joyous Noel for less fortunate families.

Brother David launches the Sodality on its drive to knock the "X" out of Xmas.

The boys pack canned-foods for the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Doreen Odom, Irma Cuellar, Alyce Wintjen, Mary Jo Andrews, Barbara Gos-tomski, and Mary Durham display a quilt handmade for their class's poor family.

Cathy Straley, Laura Cocharo, and Jeanine Jelinek get ready to play Santa Claus.

Norman Bonner, Loretta Jones, Ruth Croomes, Virginia Herrera and Jim Hankins stand around the Christmas tree. Ann Moore points out the manger scene.

Boys' Retreat Provides Spiritual Renewal

Under the direction of Father Lewis Trawalter, the underclassmen find their two day retreat, in March, spiritually uplifting and enlightening.

Father Louis Trawalter gets his point across with a well-timed joke.

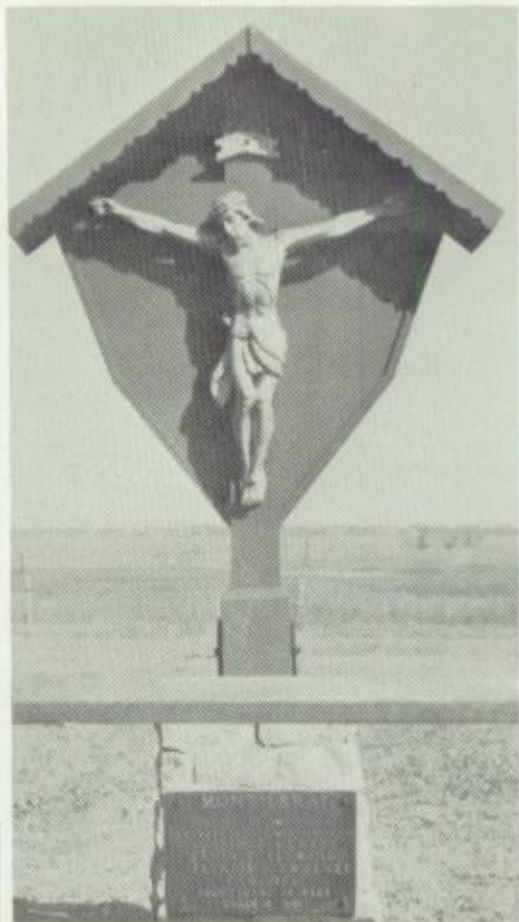

"Most" of the boys listen attentively.

Father Neumann incenses the monstrance at benediction.

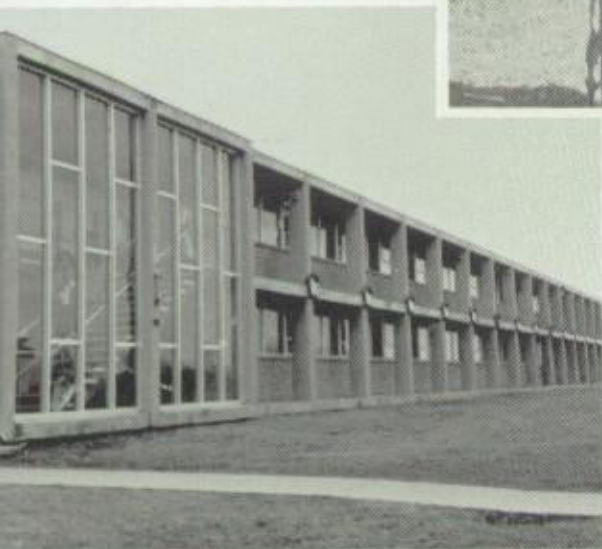

Brother Ralph watches to see that the Juniors do not break the retreat silence.

Seniors Make Closed Retreat

In January and in March, the senior boys and girls make closed, three-day retreats at Montserrat Retreat House. The retreats provide conferences guiding the students in dealing with the complexities of life, as well as ample opportunities for reflection and meditation.

Girls' Retreat Encourages Spiritual Growth

Fathers James McKenna, Patrick Hazel, James Balint, and Tim Gollob direct the underclassmen girls' retreat.

J.F.K.

"A man may die, nations may rise and fall, but an idea lives on. Ideas have endurance beyond death."

J.F.K.

June 8, 1963

He was somewhat of an enigma. His genius made him a symbol of the nation's intellectual community, and yet he enjoyed nothing more than vigorous physical activity. He possessed that quality of true greatness which enabled him to stand tall among the giants of our time without losing his love for the multitudes.

In the annals of history, few generations have produced men of his stature, with his devotion to God and to his fellow man. Now, he himself is but an idea. But he is an idea that will illuminate, like the eternal flame, the hearts and the minds of all mankind.

Students Honor Mary

Nolan's entire student body assembles on May's first afternoon to pay special honor to Our Blessed Lady. At the ceremony the two statues of Mary recently donated to our school are blessed. The devotion ends with the living rosary composed of this year's graduates, and with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The student body prays a living rosary in honor of Mary at the May Devotion.

Father Neumann blesses the madonna for the hallway.

Father Hazel blesses the students at Benediction.

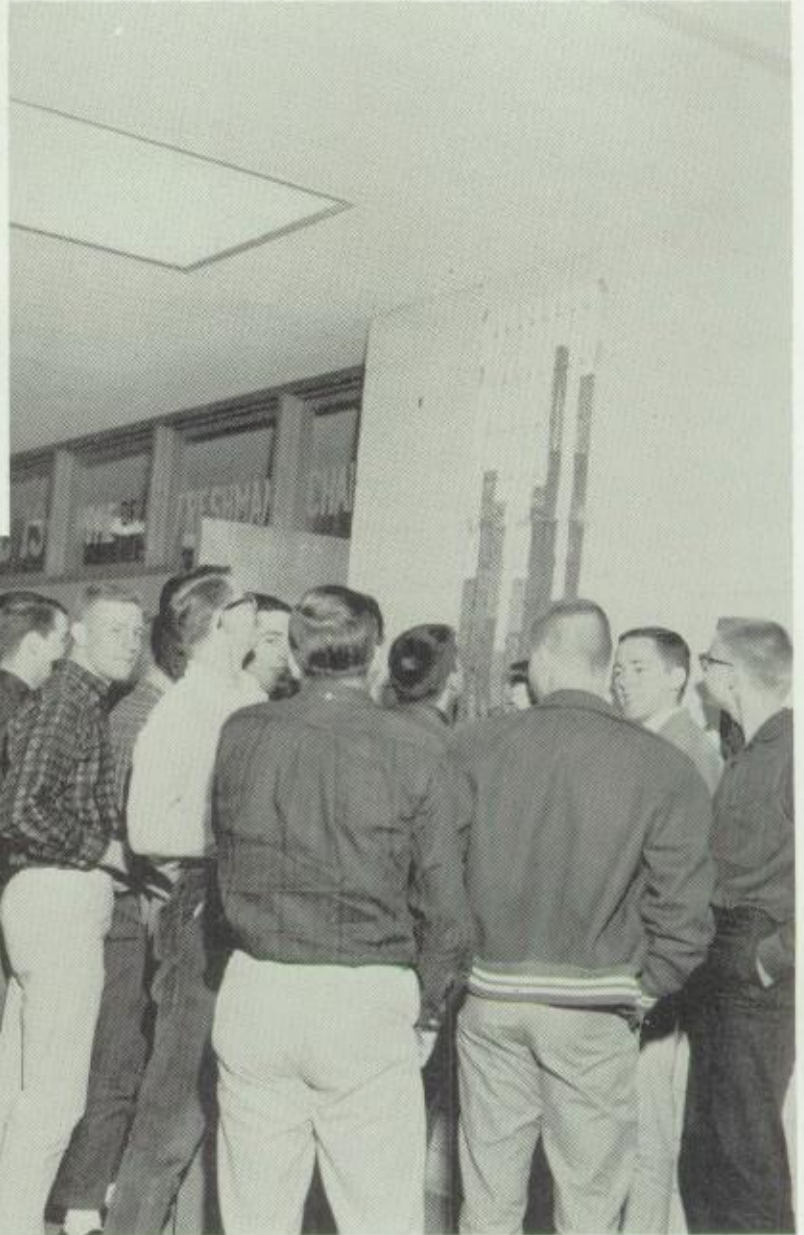

Father Neumann delivers a short homily.

Activities Inspire Lenten Devotion

In February, Catholic Press Month is observed by extensive reading of Catholic literature, and the mission collections provide the proper spirit of self-sacrifice for Lent.

Pooling their resources for the missions are: Marcia Putzel, Kem Miguez, Kathleen McGuire, and Sue Lanier.

Homerooms C-21 and C-19 vie for first place in Lenten mission money as indicated by the highest columns.

Sports

Backed by a devoted student body which repeatedly fills the stands, the Nolan Football team always takes to the field determined to emerge victorious. Each gridder promises himself that he will go all out to give 110 per cent of himself. Such spirit enables the Vikings to enjoy a successful season, despite a difficult schedule.

The Vikings make a short gain against Bishop Dunne.

Seniors Set Scholastic Pace

The Seniors of '64, undisputed school leaders, sparked the underclassmen to greater achievements through vigorous inter-division competition in school affairs. Always dependable, the seniors could be counted on to enthusiastically support all projects and to challenge the other divisions to do likewise.

As graduation drew near, these young men and women prepared to venture forth and face the challenges of a demanding world thereby enriching their own lives and becoming credits to their school and society.

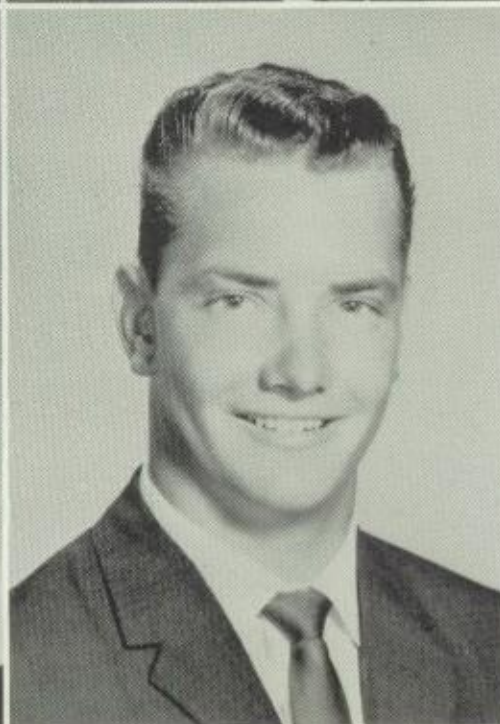

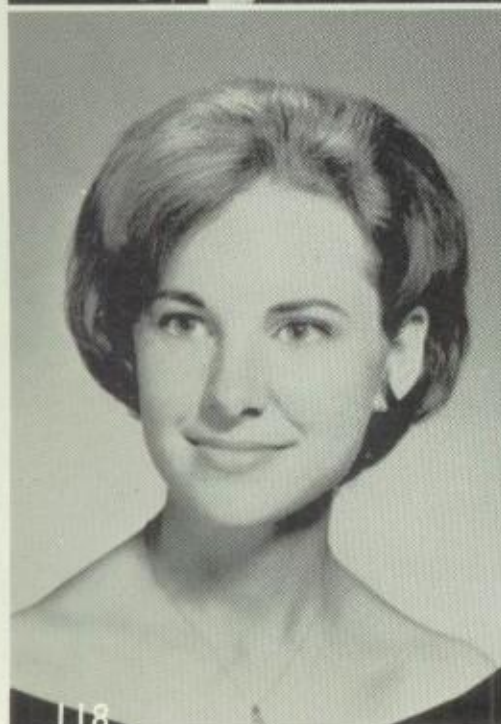

"Our group had 31 % fewer cavities."

Seniors at Baccalaureate Mass

Baccalaureate and Class Night Honor Seniors

Baccalaureate Mass is celebrated by the Very Rev. Msgr. Robert Forliti on Sunday, May 24. The Very Rev. Msgr. J. P. Erbrick, pastor of St. Patrick's Co-Cathedral, delivers the sermon. After Mass, the traditional breakfast is served in the cafeteria.

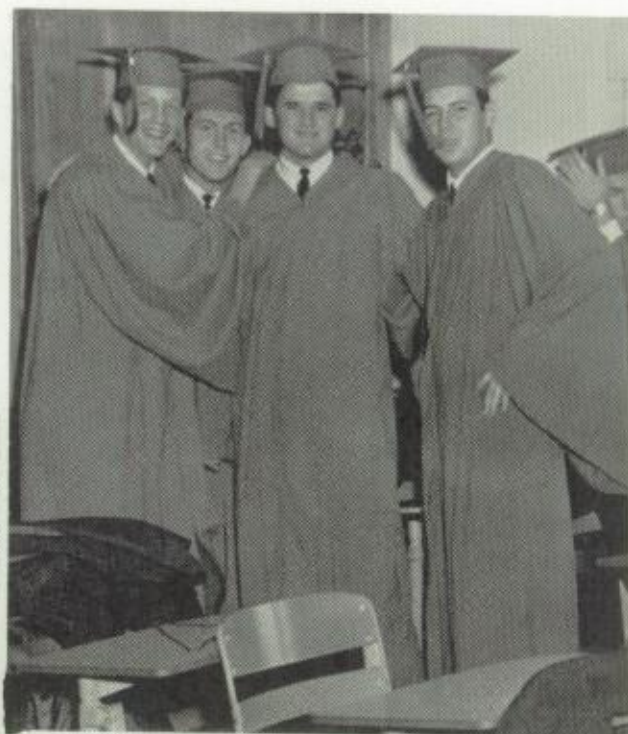

Bob Scallan and Pat Sodd enjoy breakfast

Those last minute finishing touches

Tom Fenimore, Bob Diem, Bill Morton, and Jeff Miller cheerfully anticipate graduation ceremonies while Paul Brandimarte attempts to keep his cap on.

"The stars of your destiny are within you," declares Judy Merrill in her valedictory.

Honor graduates: Jerry Becan, Valedictorian; Judy Merrill, Valedictorian; Maryam Bethell, Salutatorian; Paul Brandimarte, Salutatorian.

Jerry Becan lashes out against national apathy in his valedictory.

Senior honor students: Romalie Lohmer, Debbie Reed, Cecily Stewart, Mary Gostomski, Susan Andries, Janey Bolliger, Kathleen Lambrix, Mary Ellen Flood, Betty Degge, Patricia Woods, Dede Cox, Sharon Miguez.

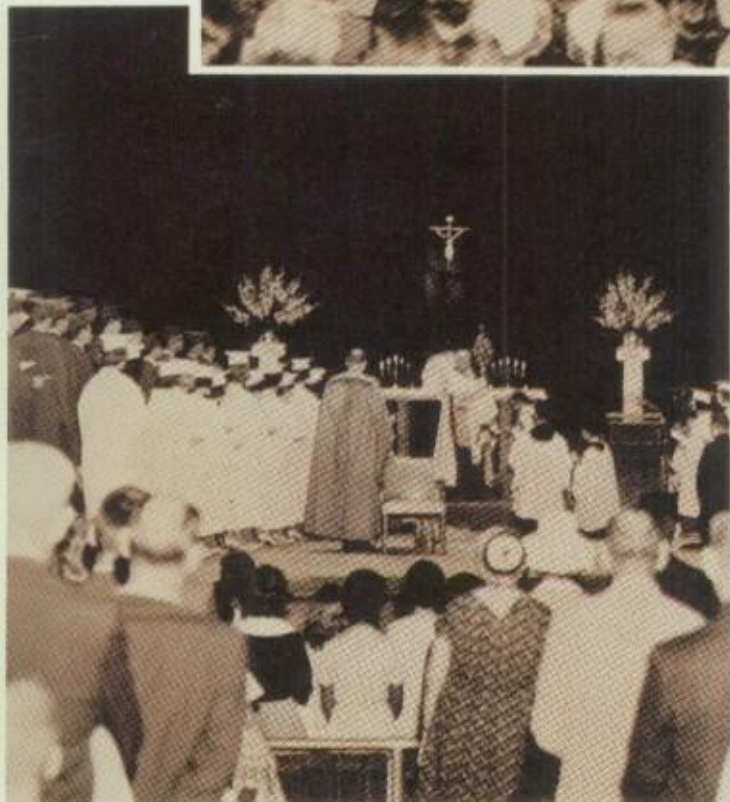

Commencement exercises mark the end of the secondary education for the seniors. Even so, graduation is a new beginning, a new challenge toward the attainment of the eternal goal. Reluctantly leaving the joys of their high school years, the seniors look toward the future with hope and conviction that their basic Catholic education will help them to take their place in society as articulate Christians.

Rehearsing the great moment

Graduation exercises take place May 25, at Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium, 8:00 P.M. His Excellency, Thomas K. Gorman, Bishop of Dallas-Fort Worth, assisted by Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. V. McCullough and Brother John Kurz, S.M., presents diplomas to the graduates as Rev. John Meyers, Superintendent of Schools, proclaims their names. Rev. Edward R. Maher, Vice-President of University of Dallas, gives the keynote address. Bishop Gorman speaks to the graduates before Benediction which closes the program.
